

Dear Zhihong Jiang:

On behalf of the AMOS-ICTMO 2019 organising committee, we invite you to present your research at the Joint 26th AMOS Annual Meeting and the International Conference for Tropical Meteorology and Oceanography, AMOS-ICTMO 2019, to be held in Darwin on the 10th of June to the 14th of June 2019.

AMOS-ICTMO 2019 will bring together experts in meteorology, oceanography, climate and other related sciences from Australia and around the world as well as government representatives, NGOs, businesses and the media to focus on the latest research. This year we will be highlighting the current research in tropical oceanography and meteorology with a special conference programme attached to the general AMOS Annual Meeting proceedings.

By taking part in this conference, you will experience and contribute to content from nearly 40 thematic sessions covering topics in meteorology, oceanography and other climate sciences. Your presence at this conference will be highly appreciated.

Sincerely,
